

Developing a Dynamic Training Plan for your Nose Work Dog

Presenting: Leah Gangelhoff

April 6th & 7th , 2019

Location: Central High School, 24617-75th Street, Salem WI 53168

Time: 9am – 5pm

Developing a Dynamic Training Plan for your Nose Work Dog

The journey from foundation all the way to Summit is a long, often complex one that provides ample opportunity to develop and implement a training plan unique to your dog. Whether you are training on your own, online, and/or working closely with an instructor in classes and/or privates, this seminar can get you thinking about what particular components you would like to incorporate into your dog's training plan. These components can and should morph and shift over the course of your dog's development. We will examine various aspects of your dog's overall journey and ones specific to the place you are currently in competition, including diagnosing problems accurately, building on previous learning, and many, many more. Put some purpose into your practice sessions and launch your dog into the next phase of his favorite activity!

This 2 day seminar combines lecture, group participation, and working the same group of dogs over the course of the two days.

About Leah

Leah, a professional Canine Training and Behavior Specialist since 2002, owns & operates Flint Hill K-9 Training, LLC serving the Greater Birmingham, AL area. During that time, she has developed private comprehensive education courses for thousands of dogs and their owners for puppy, obedience, and serious behavior issues of all kinds, including severe fear and aggression cases. Leah trained in narcotics detection with Ron Gaunt and Amy Herot while living in Los Angeles before NACSW™ and the sport of K9 Nose Work® were born and she is currently a Certifying Official and Judge for NACSW™ sanctioned K9 Nose Work® trials. She is a Senior Faculty Member at NACSW™ and is active in developing continuing education for CNWI and has presented over 30 K9 Nose Work® seminars nationally and internationally since 2011.

Working Spot Registration Information:

Participants who would like to be considered for a working spot must be willing to audit if they do not get selected. We cannot take registrations from people who only want to work a dog in order to attend. This is a two-day workshop, all participants wanting to be considered for a working spot will need to attend both days. At the time of registration, all participants to be considered for a working spot will pay the workshop fee of $175.00 as listed below. If a team is selected for a working spot, the participant will then pay an additional $175.00 for the working spot. Teams selected for a working spot will be notified by email including a link to submit additional payment within 7 days of notification. Working teams will be selected based on their skill level and an effort to show a variety of dogs and styles for the learning benefit of all working and auditing participants. Please read cancellation policy below before registering.

We will choose the working spot dogs on February 27th. You will be informed on February 28th if you have a working spot or if you were placed on a wait list for a spot.

Working spot requirements:

Participating dogs should be on all three odors. A title is not required, but dogs should be comfortable working in front of a larger group of people than in a regular class and have a good drive for target odor (and have spent training time working hides that are not paired with food). Dogs who have less experience or understanding of odor or who can become easily distracted by the environment would not be well suited for a working spot given that it typically takes some time to work through those things. Additionally, dogs who are environmentally sensitive or reactive/aggressive with people or more than mildly reactive with other dogs would not be well suited for this type of format.

All participants wanting to be considered for a working spot will need to attend both days.

Teams selected for a working spot will be notified by email including a link to submit additional payment within 7 days of notification. Working teams will be selected based on their skill level and an effort to show a variety of dogs and styles for the learning benefit of all working and auditing participants. Please read cancellation policy below before registering.

Dogs will need to be comfortable crated in a kennel or staying in the car. Please bring bedding, cool covers, pop-ups, fans or whatever your dog needs to be made comfortable and cool/warm enough in between working exercises.

Dogs must be able to stay quietly in their vehicles out of sight from their handlers.

Only one dog/handler team per household will be selected but you may submit more than one of your dogs for consideration.

REGISTRATION:

Working teams (maximum of 10 per day):

$350.00 working spot for BOTH days with same dog

Auditors (unlimited):

$175.00 auditor for BOTH days

$100.00 auditor for ONE day

NACSW – 4 CEUs per day for CNWI (8 total for both days)

Refreshments – Coffee, water and snacks will be provided. Lunch is on your own.

AUDIT/VIDEO TAPING: ONLY one other VIDEO camera (and only at the request of the handler currently running a dog) besides the presenter's camera may be operating at any given time during the event. Absolutely no other audio or video-taping is allowed. Videos may only be posted on social media if the sound has been removed (you do not have permission to post a video if the Presenter can be heard speaking). Thank you for your cooperation.

PHOTO: Everyone is welcome to post PHOTOS of themselves, Presenter, dogs etc. on social media at any time during or after the seminar. Be sure you have permission of other participants before posting photos that include them.

CANCELATION POLICY – All cancellations must be in writing by email to Laura at laura@lovingpawslc.com. No other forms of communication for cancelation will be accepted. A confirmation of cancelation will be emailed back to you by Laura at Loving Paws. Cancelations by noon central time on March 1st - will receive a refund minus $20 processing fee. Cancelations after noon cst March 1st - will not be refunded unless there is a wait list and someone can take your spot.
